LTC local examination fee refund policy for University of London students

Students who withdraw from exams, whatever the reason, may be entitled to a refund.
The eligibility criteria for a refund is as follows:

If written notice is given at least 30 days prior to the scheduled examination date, a $75 administration fee will be charged by LTC and the balance of the local examination fee refunded. The administration fee covers return courier and administration charges associated with the examinations.

If verbal or written notice is given between 30 and 8 days prior to the scheduled examination date, half of the the paid local examination fee will be refunded. There are no refunds available for students who withdraw in the 7 days prior to the examination date. Please email mmoffatt@LTCtesting.com.au

If you are unable to attend your examination, please contact the Examination Officer at LTC in writing as soon as possible.

Local examination fees are not transferable to any other centre, or to another test year.

Notifications of non-attendance made by phone are not eligible for a refund of examination fees.

All refunds are at the discretion of the Examinations Officer.
